JUDGE LINDSEY AT CHAUTAUQUA

Denver Juvenile Court Judge, Big
Attraction of the Chautauqua
Week, Delights a Large Audience.
Commonwealth Quartet Sings.

Judge Ben B. Lindsey's simply told and intensely interesting story of "The Misfortunes of Mickey", showing the workings of the Juvenile Court of Denver, over which he has presided for sixteen years, attracting the attention of the entire country by his successful labors in redeeming the lives of apparently lawless children, held the attention of the largest audience of Chautauqua week in the big tent Wednesday evening.

Only once or twice did Judge Lindsey depart from a conversational tone and his entire manner was one of telling a story, to an intimate friend, relating his experiences and his methods in dealing with the youthful and older "criminals". His policy to save the individual rather than property was clearly defined and his entire talk gave the impression of coming from a man, heart and soul in a work and thoroughly sincere in all his purposes.

He alluded but briefly to the greater civic crimes of the day in municipal governments and of the efforts being made to correct them. His own enemies in Colorado were exposed without unnecessary detail and the entire talk was one of the best features of the three years of Chautauqua in Gettysburg.

This morning he addressed the Juniors telling many incidents of his experiences with so-called "bad" boys and held their rapt attention.

Wednesday's concert numbers were given by the Commonwealth Male Quartet of Harrisburg who entertained for an hour in the afternoon and gave the prelude at night, appearing in colonial costume in the evening. They were well received by both audiences.

Between the evening concert and Judge Lindsey's lecture a half hour was spent in soliciting subscriptions for 1914 tickets and a very liberal response, going well up into the hundreds, is announced, though the definite figure is not given out. The board of managers meets Friday morning to complete arrangements for next year.

Chautauqua Notes

A heavy rain starting just after Judge Lindsey opened his address compelled him to "take a recess". I. L. Taylor led the large audience in singing "America" while the heavy down-pour lasted and the Chautauqua fans took the interruption in good humor.

Dr. Turner's activities as platform manager at Gettysburg ceased with his work on Wednesday and his place was taken to-day by Prof. I. H. Downey who came here from the Chautauqua at Lititz. Dr. Turner made a brief speech of appreciation, Wednesday evening, for the courtesy shown him during his stay here.

The Junior Chautauqua gave Judge Lindsey a rousing cheer when he appeared on the stage and the audience applauded them.

Next year's Chautauqua program has not yet been announced but the character of the attractions will be fully up to the high standard set this year, it is said. This should be sufficient recommendation for the 1914 event.

Rev. J. B. Baker, introduced as "another friend of boys", made brief remarks Wednesday evening presenting Judge Lindsey to the audience.

The automobile parade every night following the close of the evening session is sort of a pocket edition of the parade of the night of July 3d.

It was announced Wednesday that Mrs. P. L. Houck would next year give tickets to the sixteen Gettysburg school children writing the best essays on "Judge Ben Lindsey's Work for Children." The announcement brought forth much applause.

HAVE RECLAIMED OLD CEMETERY

Gettysburg Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution Repair Famous Old Cemetery West of Town. Interesting Tomb Stones.

The old McClellan Cemetery, west of town along the banks of Marsh Creek, has been taken in charge by Gettysburg Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution who have superintended extensive repairs to the old burying ground.

The cemetery, which is one of the landmarks in this vicinity, had become most unsightly through neglect but is now well worth visiting. The D. A. R. membership has had all the tombstones straightened, the grass cut, the fence painted and renewed where necessary, and other improvements were made that put the historic old place into the condition which it merits.

It was originally known as the "Old Marsh Creek Cemetery" but later earned the name of "McClellan's Cemetery". It is north of the stone bridge and Black Horse Tavern on the Fairfield Road. The headstones marking the burial places of the McClellans were moved to Evergreen Cemetery some time ago.

Among the stones now to be found in the old cemetery are those giving the following names and dates: Henry McDonogh, 1758; Rosanna Crawford, 1772; Joseph McClellan, 1840; Eleanor Kincaid, 1768; Christina Deal, 1809; Sarah Jamieson, 1807; Charles Deal, 1820; Sarah Cross, 1789; Eliza, wife of Mark Forney, 1852; Eliza, wife of John Butts, Sr., 1851; Hugh Dunwoodie, 1825; Sarah Dunwoodie, 1744; David Dunwoodie, 1802; Jane Dunwoodie, 1781; Elizabeth Dunwoodie, 1789.

These monuments are the old fashioned slate stones and may be seen in the Gettysburg Cemetery. They were erected to William McClellan, fourth, fifth and sixth, the former having died in 1831.

The burying ground is perhaps the oldest in the county and its being reclaimed by the Gettysburg Chapter is a matter of much gratification hereabouts.

HUNT LOOT IN HOTEL RUINS

Start Hunting Money and Jewels in Ruins of the Blue Mountain House.
Detectives Put on Guard. Ruins
Still Smoldering.

Hundreds of persons from Waynesboro, Hagerstown and towns and hamlets within a radius of 20 miles on Wednesday visited the ruins of the Blue Mountain House, which was destroyed by fire early Tuesday morning and which are yet smoldering today. Several thousand persons, attending the Odd Fellows' reunion, at Pen Mar viewed the ruins to-day.

The question of rebuilding the hotel is one of conjecture, but many are of the opinion that there never will be erected on the same site, or on the mountain, a hotel of such extensive dimensions, while others are just as firm in their belief that a new Blue Mountain House will be built near the one destroyed.

A meeting of the directors and stockholders was held at Blue Mountain to-day for the purpose of reviewing the present situation and discussing plans for the future.

Last night and to-day the grounds whereon the pretty hotel stood presented a gloomy appearance and a few of those gathering near the ruins went in search of loot, as it is a well-known fact that thousands of dollars' worth of silverware were used in the hotel. Jewelry and money went through the conflagration, and hunters hoped to be well rewarded for their trouble in hunting it. Where some of the debris had sufficiently cooled to admit it four or five persons spending the summer in Blue Ridge Mountains succeeded in securing several pieces of silver which had been melted into a lump.

The looters had not made much progress, however, when they were espied by officials of the Blue Mountain House, who notified the Washington county authorities to send watchers to the scene. Several deputies were on duty to-day.

Searching for valuables belonging to guests of the hotel will probably begin tomorrow morning.

It is reported that a man from Pittsburgh, who was in the hotel at the time of the fire, and who did valiant service in notifying the guests to flee for their lives, succeeded in gathering up a good-sized handful of jewelry that had been left lying upon bureaus and tables by guests during their excitement in attempting to reach safety. He went to Waynesboro shortly after the fire and said he did not know the owners of the valuables, but he was going to return to Pen Mar and turn them over to Messrs. Bond and Gibbons, proprietors of the hotel.

Four Times Locals Bring Immediate Results to Advertisers.

The small local which appeared in The Times for the past two days announcing that a local business house wanted a driver, brought fifteen inquiries. Another local for a middle aged man had several applicants on hand when the firm opened for business this morning and several others answered the ad during the day. Last week we filed a position in one of the stores of town by one day's insertion of a similar ad. Wednesday evening's Times told of a coat being lost. At six o'clock the finder of the coat notified this office that he had the much desired garment in his possession. The last named local was published at an inconspicuous place on an inside page, showing that our subscribers read thoroughly and that the ads get the results, no matter on what page they are placed.

WANTS PROBE OF MEXICAN AFFAIR

Senator Clark Says Administration Must Do More.

LIND SAILS ON BATTLESHIP

Wyoming Man Declares Something Else Must Be Done to Guarantee Protection to Americans.

Washington, Aug. 7.—President Wilson's action in sending former Governor John Lind to Mexico as a special emissary in the present situation was attacked in the senate by Senator Clark, of Wyoming, who declared "something else must be done by the administration to guarantee adequate protection to Americans."

Mr. Lind has sailed from Galveston, Tex., on the battleship New Hampshire for Vera Cruz, and is expected to arrive in Mexico City by Saturday. Senator Clark presented a resolution calling for an immediate investigation by the senate foreign relations committee of the condition of American citizens and American property in Mexico.

"This resolution is not introduced in a spirit of hostility to the administration nor of criticism of the foreign relations committee," he declared. "But conditions are growing steadily worse in Mexico."

"Now we learn that Governor Lind has been sent there by President Wilson. That does not satisfy Mr. Lind does not go as the official representative of the United States. He does not go as ambassador, cloaked with authority to represent the United States. He cannot be appealed to by American citizens for protection. Some other steps are necessary to give to Americans and American property the protection they need and are demanding."

Senator Sheppard presented a summary of the strength of the Constitutional forces in Mexico. He declared that the senate should have complete knowledge of the number of the Constitutional leaders, the troops they could muster, the extent of the territory controlled and the extent of their equipment.

Sheppard's report showed that the Constitutional leaders had between 60,000 and 80,000 followers, and that they were in possession of far more than half of Mexico.

Word has been received in El Paso, Tex., by the Pearson lumber and railroad interests that Mexican federalists at Chihuahua have arrested five of the Pearson officials at Madera and have thrown them into jail.

The men are F. J. Clark, division superintendent of the Mexico North-western railroad; H. P. Gallagher, his chief clerk; F. C. Herr, general superintendent of the Pearson Lumber company; Roy Hoard, chief accountant, and W. J. Farragut, in charge of the commissary.

The charge against them, so far as can be learned, is that they are sympathizers of Pancho Villa, the Constitutional commander, who drove the bandits away from Madero. All are American citizens, Farragut being a nephew of the famous admiral.

LIND WON'T BE AMBASSADOR

Declares He Will Not Take Permanent Post in Mexico.

New Orleans, Aug. 7.—John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative on his way to Mexico, said here that he would not in any circumstances accept the ambassadorship to Mexico.

Mr. Lind said that after he had accomplished what he expected to in the southern republic he would not accept a permanent post in that country. He refused to discuss any of the recent statements of President Huerta of Mexico.

SHOOTS SISTER-IN-LAW

Mistakes Her For Man With Whom He Had Quarrel.

Pottsville, Pa., Aug. 7.—Charged with shooting his brother's wife through the head, William Berry, of Barry township, is lodged in prison here.

The injured woman, Mrs. H. A. Berry, is reported to be dying at the Miers' hospital. A suit over some timberland by George Hoppes against Berry led to the shooting.

Accompanied by two state policemen, Hoppes went to Berry's home and went upstairs to try to effect a settlement. Berry threw him down the stairs. Kehley, a state trooper, rushed upstairs, and was mistaken for Hoppes, and Berry fired his revolver, the bullet going through the brains of his sister-in-law, who was standing at the bottom of the stairs.

Found Wife Waitress; Took Poison. Cleveland, O., Aug. 7.—Fred Fromuth, said to be the son of Harmon Fromuth, auditor of the Pennsylvania railroad at Chicago, took poison in a restaurant here. Police say his act followed the discovery that his wife, from whom he had parted, was working in the restaurant as a waitress. His recovery is doubtful.

Captured Alleged Train Wrecker. Shamokin, Pa., Aug. 7.—Detectives captured William Parry, of Boydston, charged with turning Pennsylvania railroad switches. He is twenty-four years old. Parry is charged with endangering the lives of employees and passengers by throwing switches leading into sidings.

BRYAN ADMITS BALKAN REBUFF

America Practically Told to Mind Her Own Business.

Washington, Aug. 7.—The United States was virtually requested by Greece, Montenegro, Bulgaria, Serbia and Roumania to remain aloof from the Balkan situation.

The rebuff came as the result of a request by Secretary of State Bryan that all the Balkan states include a provision assuring the full enjoyment of civil and religious liberty to all the inhabitants of the Balkan states, without distinction of creed, in the peace provisions now being drawn up at Bucharest.

Minister J. C. Schurman, at Athens, was instructed to convey this request to the Balkan allies. He reported to the state department that he had been told that it was not considered proper for the United States to intervene in European affairs, if such affairs did not immediately concern American citizens or their property. He also was told that religious liberty already had been included in the provisions for peace.

ALLIES END THEIR OWN WAR

Delegates of the Balkan States Conclude Peace After Fierce Struggle.

Bucharest, Roumania, Aug. 7.—Peace was concluded at a meeting of the delegates of Serbia, Greece, Montenegro, Roumania and Bulgaria.

The war between the former Balkan allies, who had fought shoulder to shoulder against Turkey, began on July 1. On that date the Serbian minister of the interior declared Serbia was at war with Bulgaria.

On the same day Greece also announced a state of war existed, but did not make formal declaration.

Roumania declared war on July 19 and moved her troops over the Bulgarian frontier to occupy the strip of territory from Silistria on the Danube to Varna on the Black sea, which she claimed "in order to reestablish the balance of power."

The trouble between the allies arose from the difficulty of dividing the territory captured by them from Turkey. Severe fighting followed, and many thousands men were killed or wounded. Soon after the beginning of hostilities numerous massacres and acts of pillage were reported to have been committed by the various armies.

Lancaster, Pa., Aug. 7.—William Funk, of Lancaster, jumped sixty feet from an overhead bridge at Leaman Place, twelve miles east of here, landing directly in front of a New York day express eastbound on the Pennsylvania railroad.

Virtually every bone in Funk's body was broken, either by the fall or by the force of the engine's blow. The train crew did not know of the accident and the express did not stop.

HOW CONGRESS WAS PRODDED

Manufacturers Deluged Law-makers With Letters.

GENERAL COUNSEL TESTIFIES

Says Members of Association in Congressional District Were Requested to Write Representative.

Washington, Aug. 7.—How the National Association of Manufacturers "prodded" members of congress to support legislation the association favored, and opposed those who threatened its interests was explained to the house lobby committee by James A. Emery, general counsel for the association.

Emery was the principal witness before the lobby investigators on both sides of the capital. He began a preliminary statement to the senate committee of the objects and aims of the association, and on the house side he concluded the identification of the 200 letters called from the organization's files by the committee.

Discussing the political activities of the association, Emery said that the body itself did not engineer congressional campaigns. The association kept track of the records of congressmen, he added, and when the time for their re-election came, notified its members in the individual districts, and the campaign work was done by the local members.

Emery stated that he had been national counsel for the manufacturers since 1907, and for the National Council for Industrial Defense since 1908. The council, he explained, was the natural outgrowth of the desire of employers of labor to form some national organization that might be able to do for them what the united labor organizations wished to do for labor. Broadly speaking, he said, the main idea was to fight for the "open shop" instead of the unionized shop for which labor contended.

A letter written by Emery to F. C. Schwedtman, secretary of the president of the National Association of Manufacturers, in 1910, commented on the fact that "Congressman Bartholdt was very effectively prodded from St. Louis" in connection with a vote on a proposition to exempt labor unions from prosecution under the Sherman law.

Members of the committee conducted a rather lengthy examination to determine just what the method of "prodding" was employed by the association. The witness explained that letters and telegrams were started from the constituents of the congressman sought to be influenced, by communicating with the members of the association in the congressman's district.

As an instance of this sort of activity, there was introduced a telegram sent by Emery during the fight against this same labor union proposition, in 1910, to A. V. Williams, of the Minnesota Employers' association in St. Paul, which urged him to "please get as vigorous a protest by wire as possible to Congressmen Davis, Nelson, Stearnson and Miller, of your state. All are supporting Hughes amendment preventing enforcement of the Sherman law against labor organizations."

SEGREGATION IS LEGAL

Maryland Court Upholds Separation of Whites and Blacks.

Baltimore, Aug. 7.—The Maryland court of appeals in a preliminary opinion handed down held that the mayor and city council of Baltimore may, in the exercise of its police powers, validly pass an ordinance for the segregation of the white and colored races without conflicting with the provisions of the constitution of the United States or of the state of Maryland.

The opinion, however, declares invalid on technical grounds an ordinance approved by the mayor in 1911. It was announced that an ordinance will be drawn up to meet the legal exactions.

EFFORTS AT SUICIDE FAIL

Pittsburgh Man Shoots Himself on Morning of Wedding.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 7.—Frank Welter dressed himself carefully and completed all arrangements for his wedding, then went to his room and fired two shots into his breast near the heart.

Discovering that he was not dead, he fired another shot at his head, but sustained no injury other than a flesh wound. Then he pulled the trigger of the revolver again, but the bullet went wild.

When physicians arrived to remove him to the hospital he refused their help and walked unaided to the ambulance.

BECAME FIREBUG FOR LIVELIHOOD

Chicago Man Tells How Fires Were Started.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—John Danies, self-confessed "firebug," described how he had set fire to the store of W. A. Harris and Max Covitz, who are on trial under an indictment for arson. He said he received $700 for the job.

"Harris and Covitz told me they wanted a total destruction," Danies testified. "They said they had more insurance than goods."

After some delay Danies said that Harris and Covitz sent word to him in New York that they were ready for the fire, so he came back to Chicago to do the work.

"When I arrived Harris and Covitz told me everything was ready for the following Sunday night," continued Danies. "I bought twenty-five gallons of gasoline and poured it over the goods in the store. I went out in the alley and threw a match through the back window. The fire started. I met Covitz and his brother-in-law, Nudelmann next morning."

"They said the job was bad and they did not want to pay me the amount we had agreed upon. But I insisted and Nudelmann paid me $400 in cash and Harris and Covitz gave me a note for $300, which Nudelmann later cashed for me."

Danies' story was corroborated by Harry Brown, a public fire insurance adjuster, who testified that he had first approached Danies with the proposition to start the fire.

BEDRIDDEN 27 YEARS

Man Who Lay Virtually in One Position All That Time Dies.

Wellington, Mo., Aug. 7.—Thomas F. Lockheart, after spending twenty-seven years in bed, virtually in one position, came to the death he for years had prayed for.

Lockheart's joints were ossified, so that the only movements of the body he could make were a shrugging of the right shoulder and the middle joints of two fingers on the right hand.

With this shoulder and finger movement Lockheart had written an autobiographical book which brought him funds sufficient to buy the home in which he died and to pay for a nurse to care for him constantly.

Lockheart took to his bed Christmas night, 1886, following a long ride through a cold rain. One after another his joints became useless. He was forty-three years old.

HAVE MAJORITY FOR MONEY BILL

Democrats Predict It Will Pass House by Sept. 15.

GOES TO CAUCUS MONDAY

Leaders Say Radical Members Will Support Measure on Floor, After Opposing It in Caucus.

Washington, Aug. 7.—A canvass of the house, just concluded under the direction of Representative Underwood, the Democratic leader, discloses that the administration banking and currency bill will be adopted in the party caucus to be held on Monday next by an overwhelming vote.

The leaders appear to be confident that the radical element will confine their opposition to the measure to the caucus and that when the bill is called up in the house it will have the support of practically every Democratic member.

Further, the leaders say, the bill will receive some measure of support from Republicans. Representative Glass, of Virginia, chairman of the committee on banking and currency, predicted that the bill would be passed by the house on or about Sept. 15. Mr. Glass entertains some hopes that the measure will be transmitted to the senate before the date named.

The banking and currency situation has cleared immeasurably in the past week, and the present orderly state of affairs is attributed in large part to the good offices of Leader Underwood. Acting in behalf of the administration, Mr. Underwood has impressed on the insurgents the necessity of united action by the Democrats. The insurgents will fight the bill in caucus and will be given votes on the various amendments that were defeated in committee.

Among these are the Wingo amendment aimed at interlocking directors and the Ragsdale-Henry amendment providing for the issuance of currency on cotton, corn and wheat. An effort will also be made to force the adoption of some form of government guarantee of bank deposits. All these propositions will be defeated in the caucus and in the house, according to statements made by the leaders.

Present indications are that the banking bill will not be fought on partisan grounds in the house. A number of Republicans from the west have given notice privately that they will vote for it.

Now that the way has been paved for the passage of the bill in the house the administration is addressing itself to the task of adjusting the situation in the senate. The president is said to feel confident that the senate will pass the banking bill, although he is aware its consideration in that body will indefinitely prolong the session.

TO FIX PHONE RATES SOON

Public Service Commission Plans to Adopt Schedule After Hearing. Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 7.—The public service commission will meet on Aug. 19 and take steps to fix telephone rates throughout the state.

The three members of the old railroad commission are familiar with the situation and the idea is for the representatives of the telephone interests to present their objection to the tentative rates so that the new members will have the necessary information. Shortly after the schedule will be adopted.

On Aug. 20 a hearing will be held on the complaints of the Manufacturers' Association of York and the Manufacturers' Association of Lancaster concerning the rates on bituminous coal from the Clearfield district to these points.

WOULD PENSION EPISCOPAL CLERGY

Committee Also Urges Financial Aid For Widows.

New York, Aug. 7.—Pensions approximating half pay, for every Episcopal clergyman more than sixty-five years old, and financial aid for widows and orphaned children of clergymen, are recommended in a preliminary report of the commission on pensions of the Episcopal church, of which Bishop Lawrence, of Massachusetts, is chairman.

The pension plan, which has been framed by Monell Sayre, an expert of the Carnegie Foundation, after an exhaustive investigation by the commission of every pension system in the world, embraces in its scope the entire body of 5500 clergymen employed in domestic and foreign fields.

A fund of $7,000,000 would be necessary at the start and $500,000 would be expended annually thereafter. The annual obligations would be met, under the plan, by a tax on the individual churches.
